PLEASE NOTE

It is in the nature of a trip of this kind that arrangements and participants have to be flexible. While we use all reasonable endeavours to ensure a trip runs according to your itinerary, the day-to-day agenda and ultimate goal of the trip are taken as aims and not as contractual obligations. It is a necessary condition of your joining any of our trips that you accept this flexibility. Occasionally, we may have to make changes and we reserve the right to do so at any time.

TRIP INFORMATION

DIFFICULTY

Whilst you will be covering distances of around only 10km per day on this trip, walking in snowshoes takes some getting used to and you will be carrying not only your own belongings, but also a share of the group equipment. This trip is rated level 4 due to the non-stop nature of any adventure in Svalbard.

In good weather these snowshoe hikes can feel easy once you find your rhythm, but if you encounter strong winds, rain or freezing conditions, it could feel very difficult indeed. As well as kayaking and hiking you will also be assisting with cooking, loading and unloading pulkas, fetching water and taking turns on "bear watch". There are no porters, cooks or waiters on this trip, you are part of the team and must do your share of the work. Although this makes the adventure more demanding, it also adds to the enormous sense of satisfaction and achievement at the end of your journey.

We are camping in the wilderness where there is the possibility of polar bears roaming near the camp. A member of the team must be on "bear watch" at all times day and night and this is normally done in rotating 2 hour shifts. As it never goes dark in Svalbard in the summer months, some people may find it difficult to sleep.

If you have any questions about your suitability for this trip or would like more specific information about what to expect, please do not hesitate to contact us.

FOOD & DRINK

Staying well-fed on your trip is absolutely vital to keep up energy levels, so that you can enjoy your activities. This adventure in Svalbard is full board whilst you are camping. Your guesthouse in Longyearbyen is booked on a Bed and Breakfast basis. We are proud of the fresh and frankly delicious food we provide despite being in such a remote location. Because everything we need for this adventure must be brought over on our initial boat journey, we are limited on what we can carry and must choose our ingredients carefully. Fresh produce is used nearer the start of the trip with the more basic foodstuffs such as pasta and rice used towards the end. The guesthouse in Longyearbyen is used to having visitors from all over the world and caters well for vegetarians and intolerances. Please inform us of any dietary requirements when you book so that we can plan appropriate meals for whilst you are camping.

Your help in the kitchen is expected and much appreciated, particularly in the evenings with food prep and washing up. We like the whole group to work as a team to cook dinner, it creates a pleasant atmosphere as we reflect on the days adventures together.

Each day begins with a hearty breakfast. There will be oatmeal, bread and a choice of spread such as chocolate spread, jam and honey and, of course plenty of tea and coffee.

Lunches typically include freeze-dried meals such as 'Real Turmat' which provide a quick, warm and nutritious meal as they just need boiling water and a few minutes before they are ready to eat! These are also perfect for an expedition trip like this where space is at a premium. If you would like to bring along some snacks for in-between meals there is space to do so, however these must stay in the group food bag and not in your personal belongings.

In the evenings, you can expect dishes of quinoa, lentils, salmon fillets, tofu and reindeer. Some evening meals will be vegetarian and we will carry as much fresh veg as possible. There will also be deserts of fruit yogurt, cake or chocolate. If it has been a challenging day and we are later back for dinner, we may also have some of the freeze-dried meals in the evening.

You will have access to safe drinking water direct from the glacier at your basecamp. All water collected will be boiled and then cooled so you can use this to fill your reusable bottles.

Alcohol and cigarettes are heavily taxed and expensive in Scandinavia. If you plan on bringing either of these into Svalbard, they must be left in the storage in Longyearbyen as they are not permitted on the expedition.

ACCOMMODATION

Your full day-by-day itinerary shows what is included in terms of hotel accommodation and meal basis.

LONGYEARBYEN: Our pre and post trip accommodation is based in Longyearbyen and will be in a cosy local guesthouse where you will stay in twin rooms with shared bathrooms. If you have a dietary requirement then please let us know when you book so that we can let the hotel know. The hotel is located within 30 minutes' walk to the main town and restaurants.

CAMPING: We provide comfortable teepee-style tents for 2 people, fully equipped with camp beds and foam sleeping mats. We also provide sleeping bags suitable for the Arctic conditions. For our expeditions we use light equipment which is appropriate for Svalbard's winter conditions. We will also provide a larger tent for cooking and eating and cooking equipment. Please be aware that our adventures in Svalbard involve full participation. You are joining an arctic expedition and will need to do your share of the work, this will include pitching tents, fetching water and preparing meals. There are no porters or chefs up here in the frozen north, this is adventure in its purest form.

At all times while camping in Svalbard, there is the possibility of polar bears roaming near the camp. "Bear watch" is shared amongst everyone in the group in 2 hour shifts. Your guide will provide instruction on what to do if you see a bear and how to use any equipment provided.

TOILETS: In Longyearbyen your accommodation will have flushing toilets. Whilst camping, a designated toilet area will be established within the camp. We provide toilet paper and a lighter to burn it after use.

YOUR GUIDE

All of our qualified guides are highly experienced locals who have been working in this environment for many years.

Once you are on your trip, you should speak to your lead guide about any problem, whether it relates to food, equipment or health. We would much prefer you to sort out any problems with them on the spot, rather than allow them to spoil your trip. Your guide is in contact with the office if further assistance is required.

If the lead guide is the source of your concern, you will have the opportunity to speak to one of the office representatives when you return to the guesthouse.

TRANSPORT

We insist on using a high standard of vehicle and driver for all of our transfers. In Europe, it is a legal requirement to have seatbelts fitted in the back of vehicles. If you are unhappy about any aspect of the vehicle or the standard of driving, please speak to the driver or our local office immediately.

LUGGAGE

You may bring a hold bag (up to 15kg) as well as a cabin bag. For your hold luggage a suitcase will be fine as you can leave this at the hotel but you should bring waterproof drybags to pack items that will be stored in your pulka. You should bring soft-sided luggage such as a duffel bag, gym bag or backpack to take with you to Camp. You should bring a small daypack wear when hiking.

We would recommend packing your clothes and personal belongings in drybags inside your larger luggage.

HOW DO I GET THERE?

To reach Longyearbyen, there are direct flights from Oslo (3 hr journey). Some flights are direct and others will land in Tromsø on Norway's west coast and you will be asked to disembark to go through the Svalbard immigration before re-embarking on the plane once more and continuing your journey. This means that you will be flying at a low altitude when passing over the jaw dropping Lofoten islands. If you wish to get a birds eye view of these out of the plane window then make sure to be seated on the left hand side of the plane for both the outgoing and return flight. Direct flights do not operate every day of the week so you may also need to spend a night in Oslo before continuing your journey the next day.

To reach Oslo from the UK, there are direct flights with British Airways from Heathrow and Norwegian Airlines have direct flights from Gatwick and Edinburgh. SAS have direct flights from Manchester.

If you are travelling from the US, SAS operate direct flights to Oslo from New York. From the west coast there are good flight options with Air France, KLM and Lufthansa.

If you are changing airlines or re-checking your luggage at an airport on route, please ensure you leave a minimum of 3 hours between flights. This will account for any delays on arrival, travel time across airports (this can take longer than you think) and time taken to re-check baggage.

ON ARRIVAL

Once you have landed and collected your luggage, please look out for a member of our team who will either be holding a big sign reading "KANDOO" or a board displaying your name. The airport at Longyearbyen is so small you can't miss us! If you have chosen to make your own way to the pre-trek accommodation, you can easily find a taxi at the airport. The address is on your trip itinerary.

PRE-TREK BRIEFING

It is a requirement of joining any of our trips that you attend a briefing before the trip begins. This gives our guide the opportunity to review the plans for the trip with you, make sure you have all the right gear and answer any questions you may have. This will take place in the morning of day 2. Your guide will meet you at the guesthouse.

BUDGET & CHANGE

The currency in Svalbard is the Norwegian Krone (NOK).

Please be aware that Svalbard is nearly cash free due to the absence of banks. Payments are made with credit or debit cards so it is important you take a card with you for any incidental purchases. Please inform your card provider that you intend to travel to Svalbard (Norway) before departure, this will ensure that your card continues to work properly while overseas. A lunch in Longyearbyen will cost you roughly £20 (265 NOK) and dinner will be £30 (350 NOK). Therefore, our recommended guidance for spending budget in the Svalbard would be roughly £100-150 (1300-2000 NOK) on top of any tips, to give you ample souvenir spending money.

TIPS

Tipping customs vary all over the world and can be very confusing when travelling to a new country. Tipping in Svalbard is always appreciated, however it is not obligatory and should be left to the discretion of each individual. If you are satisfied with your guide's services we recommend a tip between 350-450 NOK per person. As Svalbard is almost cashless, PayPal is the preferred method of tipping.

FORMALITIES & HEALTH

PASSPORT

Most travellers require a passport that is valid for at least six months after the return date. It is your responsibility to confirm your specific passport requirements and please be aware that proof of onwards travel may be required. Travelling to Norway is visa free for up to 90 days, for UK and US citizens. Please be aware that the new EES (Entry Exit System) is now active for all Non-EU nationals. This means your biometric data (photo and fingerprints) will be taken at the border on arrival. Those travelling from the UK may have their biometric data taken at the time of boarding, rather than on arrival in the EU.

VACCINATIONS

No vaccinations are required.

INSURANCE

It is your responsibility to ensure that you are fully and adequately insured for the duration of your trip. Please ensure that all activities, excursions and destinations in your itinerary are included in your travel insurance policy, in addition to your regular cover for cancellation and medical expenses.
